The Panther

1964: Focus on Growth

Published by the Panther Staff of Peoria High School, Peoria, Arizona

Sally Whitworth and Martha Burns, co-editors

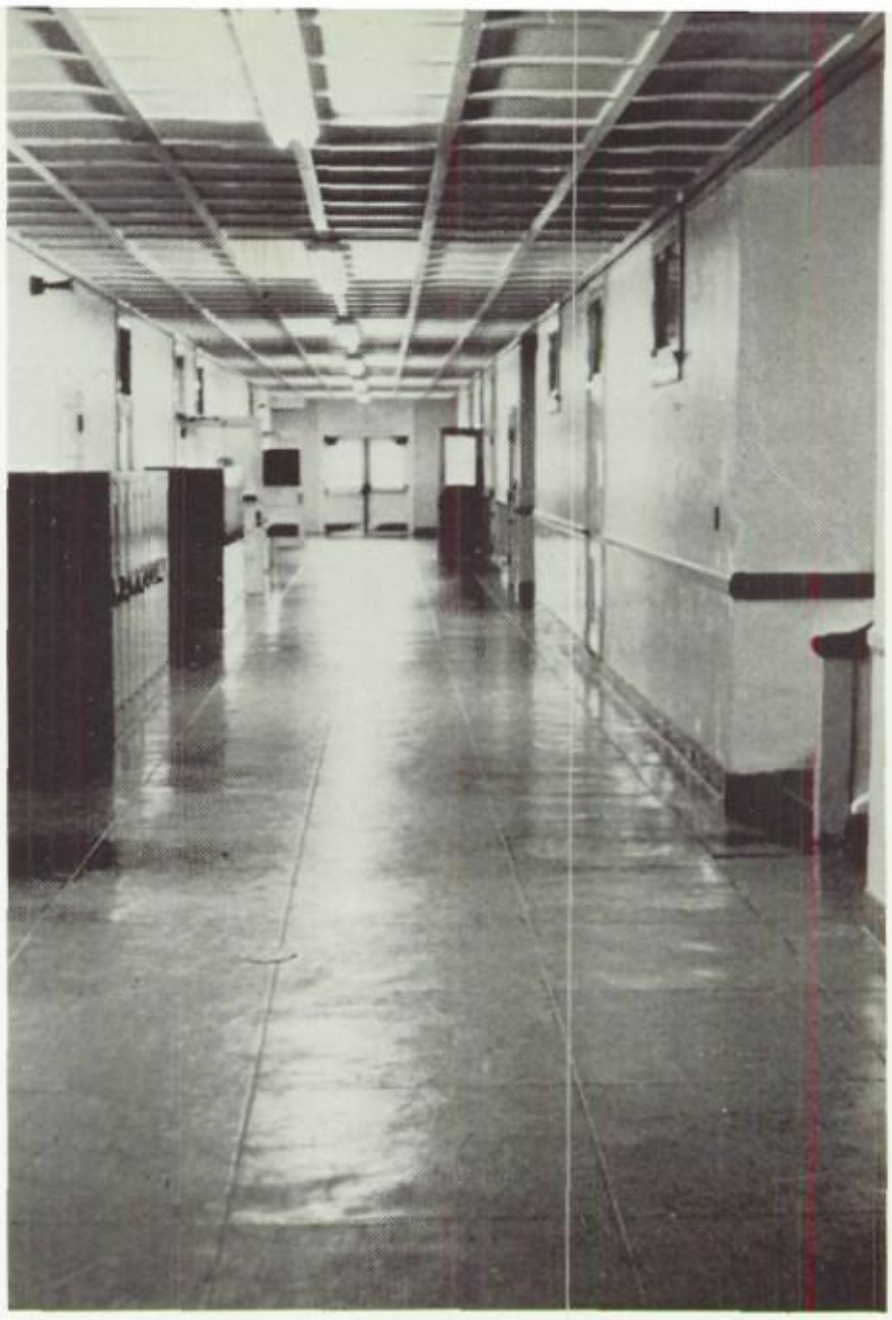
1963-64 — it was quite a year

coming back to school, most of us had to take a second look at all the changes . . . the faculty expanded to twenty-four teachers, including seven new ones . . . a sparkling new music building mushroomed during the summer to house the band and chorus . . . September brought completion of the auditorium remodeling, including comfortable plush seats and completely new lighting . . . a new, fully equipped language laboratory materialized during the year . . . publications, art, and mechanical drawing moved to new, larger quarters . . . the yearbook grew in size, too . . .

for growth

since school represents a growth experience for us as students, we, too, shared the pattern of growth . . . that magic change that turns a green freshman into a sophisticated senior happened another 400 times . . . the Panthers managed to make our prides grow with their skill, sportsmanship, and winning ways . . . we struggled to make those 3's and 4's grow into 1's and 2's and always with the goal of that coveted diploma . . .



in the next one hundred pages, the 1964 Panther will explore these patterns of growth at Peoria High School . . .

Academic Growth . . . . . page 8

Focus on Growth: 1964

Buildings grew up around campus . . . and so did we . . . expanding, maturing, developing for the future growth is reflected in the faces of Peoria High . . . Through intelligence and wonderment . . . happiness and sadness, excitement and calmness . . . wishing and puzzlement, learning and doing . . . stillness and motion —people must be people . . .

LEFT—Scenes of construction were familiar sights to students as the music building, newest on campus, became a reality. RIGHT—Other patterns of growth were demonstrated by students: social growth (a freshman with his "nose to the penny" during initiation), academic growth (taking advantage of the library), and physical growth, below, as seniors apply muscle to rope in a tug of war during field day.

Focus on Growth: 1964

Study! Study! Study! get your homework done before you "goof off" . . .
to become someone today you must have ambition to succeed . . .
to some of us this comes easy . . .
no work at all . . . well, hardly . . .
our future is measured, in a large part,
by the academic growth we achieve in school . . .

Como esta Vd.?

Or, in English, how are you?

The importance of learning and speaking a foreign language has been known for a long time; however, in today's small, tense world, it becomes more vital to learn a tongue other than our own.

Language itself is interesting. We use it every day to express our feelings, ideas and thoughts.

Spanish instruction at Peoria High was modernized with the completion of the language laboratory, a means of individually recording one's voice to check pronunciation.

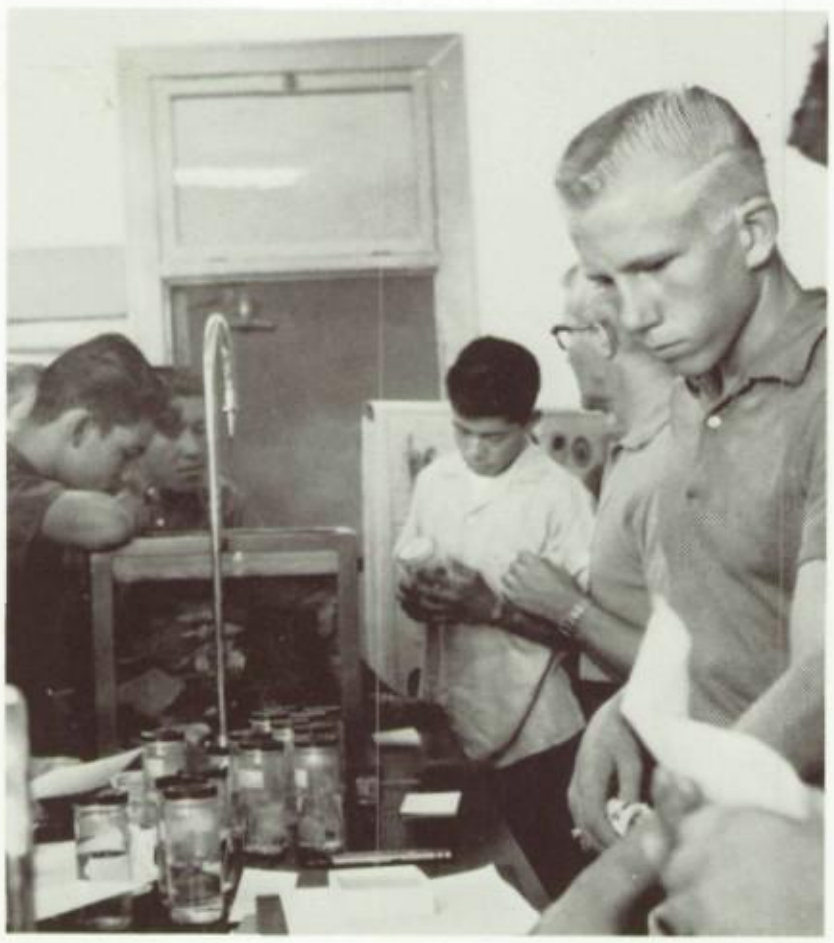
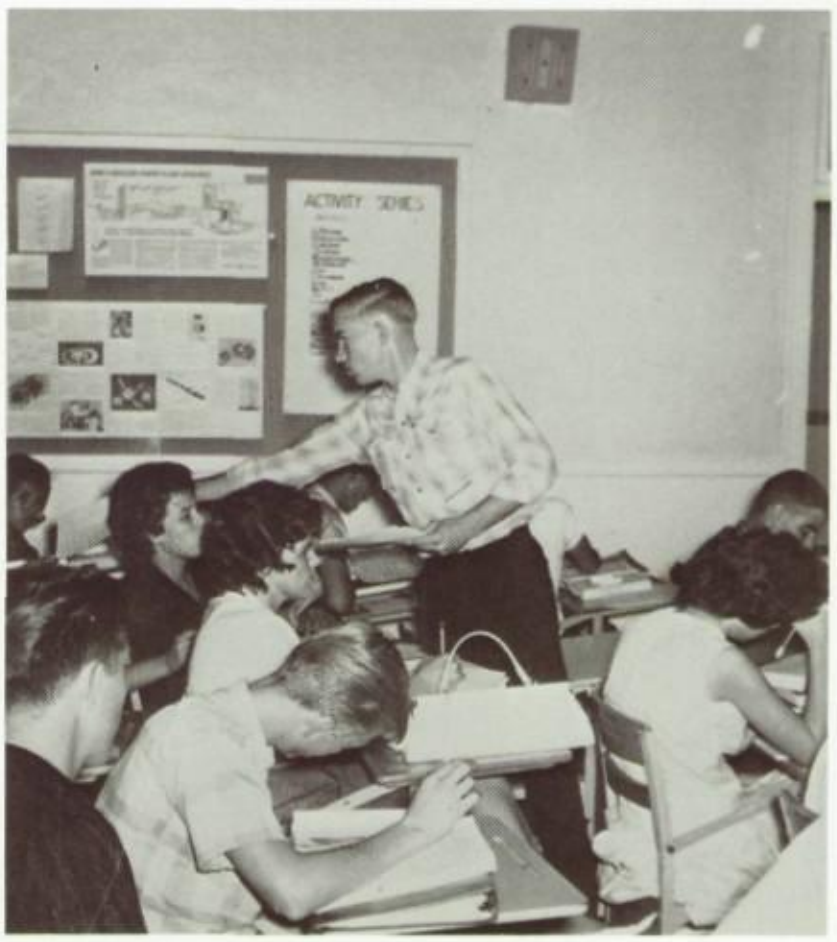
"KNOW the kingdom, phyllum class, and order," admonishes Mr. Martin to Biology class, as they learn about animals.

Scientists Explore Nature of Physical World

BIOLOGY students discuss the inhabitants of the aquarium.



CHEMISTRY—Larry Pitts passes out the "fatal" test results to chemistry students.



What is a molecule? Do you know how many stars there are? What is life?

These are some of the perplexing questions that face us today in our technological age.

The study of science is a challenging and exciting field. These challenges are going on every minute of every day. You're a science in yourself.

Peoria students chose from among five courses —biology, chemistry, physics and two in general science.

For the interested, the Peoria chapter of the Young Scientists of America provided a means of working on individual projects, culminating in the annual science fair.

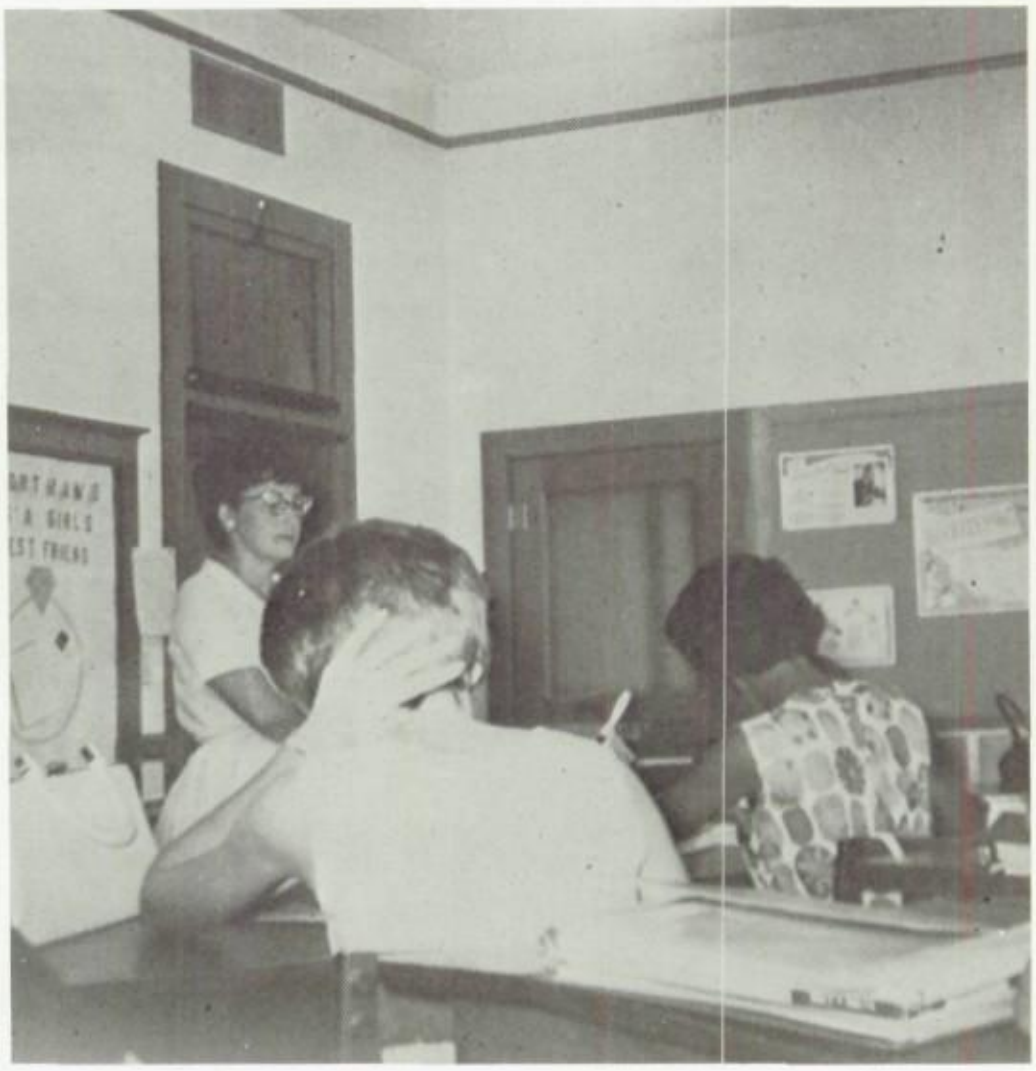
MATH—Mr. Goodrich's freshman algebra class ponders the assignment as he gives individual help to a student.

Interesting Discussion, Varied Experiences

HOME EC.—Mrs. Border's class in advanced home economics discusses current problems.

ENGLISH—Harold Hughes discusses the motivations of the characters in an oral book review for English 5.

SPANISH—Armando Padilla contemplates a humorous translation in Spanish 3.



SHORTHAND—Mrs. Boker gives dictation to future secretaries who will later translate it into English.

Enlivened Classroom Work, Increased Learning

TYPING—"Oh, no, not another mistake," moans Josephine Reyna, a student in Mr. Moses' first year typing class.

ART—Crafts projects are planned by Janice Harding, Sharon Butcher, and Linda Quinland.

Classes Improve Skills

Art classes, under Mr. Ray Kiel, learned to work with many materials, including leather, ceramics, copper and other metals. Fabrics, sketching, and rock-smoothing were also explored by art students.

Woodshop classes under Mr. Joe Hunter worked on individual projects, including many for their own homes. The use of power tools, care of equipment, wood finishing and other skills were stressed. Welding techniques were learned in metals, taught by Mr. Kiel.

Mechanical drawing is offered to Peoria students who worked in beginning and advanced drafting techniques.

SHOP—The value of welding skills to the farmer is demonstrated by Mr. Charles VanMeter to students Larry Tate, Leonard Dikes, and Dickie Augustin.

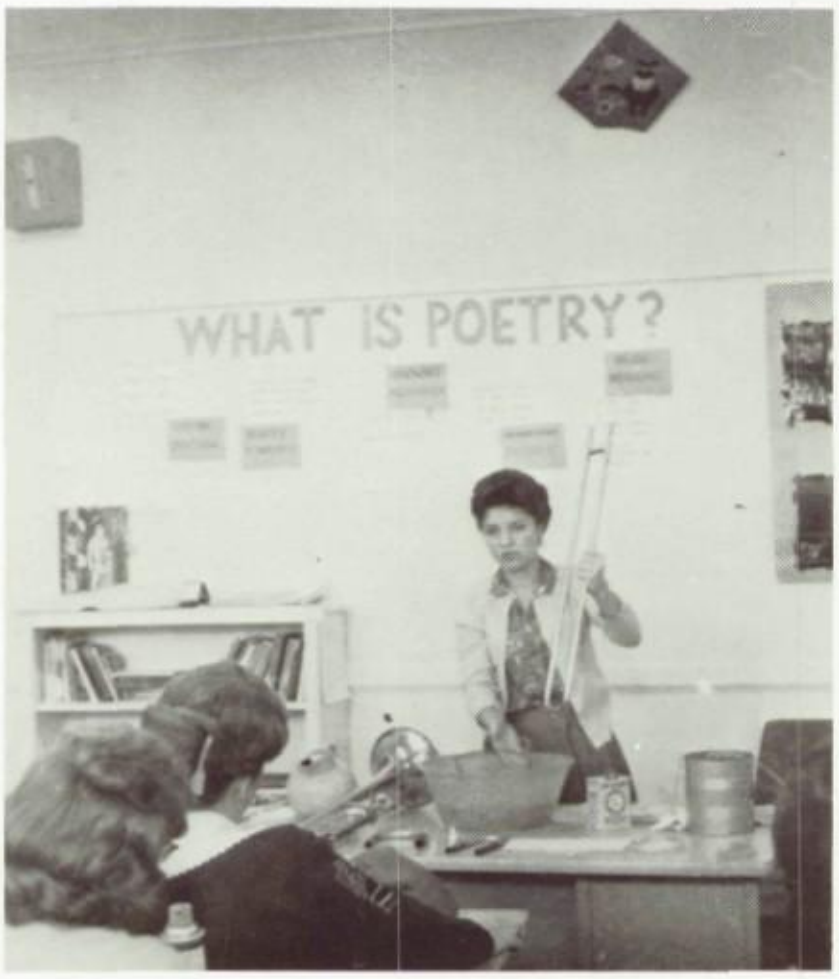
DEMONSTRATING with props "how to clean a trombone" is Peggy Neil.



Taking their name from Constantin Stanislavski's autobiography, the speech-drama club submitted their constitution to the student council in March.

Among the activities of the newly-formed group included one-act plays for local organizations, participation in the exchange assembly and discussions on various aspects of the theater.

Some members also visited the new Phoenix "Star Theater" to see "theater-in-the-round."

Officers were: Linda Quinland, president; Brenda Graves, vice-president; Bonnie Bokelman, secretary-treasurer; Melvin Pack, sergeant at arms.

Actors Took Advantage of Remodeled Auditorium

Varsity Band Makes Music, Money

Peoria's Varsity Band added spirit to the already enthusiastic football crowds with their pre-game and half-time shows. The band was invited to parade and present a concert at Legend City on "Peoria District Day." The Band sponsored the "Blackouts of '64" talent show; first place winner was Martha Burns, senior. The musicians closed the school term with their annual appearance at the Regional Music Festival in Tucson.

Leading the organization this year were Don Hobbs, president; Bonnie Bokelman, vice-president; Connie Harding, secretary; Linda Kuskie, treasurer; Mike Thomas, drum major; and Jakie Underdown, head majorette.

Special music by the stage band was the feature of several celebrations this year—like the Sun City-Youngtown appearances. This is a musical group made up of first and second chair members of the varsity band.

The governing body of the band is the Lyres Club. Eligibility for this group requires that a band member maintain a straight "1" average for four semesters. Along with ruling power goes the special privileges, like the choice of bus seats on band trips, which automatically belong to members of this club.

Student Council Sponsored Christmas Baskets

"Active" is the word that described the student council under the sponsorship of Mr. Ray Kellis.

The past year found the council heading the all-school carnival in October. This group also sponsored the annual Christmas box program. These were filled by various organiztions and divided and packed by members of the council. During the year, all school activities are passed through various committees.

To raise money, the organization sold green hats with gold feathers and other favors. The executive council attended a workshop in Tucson.

ANYTOWN representative from Peoria, Martha Burns.

Outstanding Seniors Represented Peoria

Anytown, meeting in Prescott, Arizona, is an encampment of Arizona teenagers of many races, religions, and backgrounds. "Anytown," commented representative Martha, "strives to promote better human relations, and subdue prejudice among teenagers."

Tucson was the sight of the 1963 Girl's State and Boy's State meetings. Elections were held and the representatives were allowed to seek any public office they wished. A new and better understanding of the democratic processes is the goal of Girl's and Boy's State.

REPRESENTATIVES included David Murillo, Boy's State, Terry Bolen and Bonnie Bokelman, Girl's State, and Ralph Castro, Boy's State.

LEFT, Salutatorian and Valedictorian for the class of 1964 were David Murillo and Bonnie Bokelman. Below, Finalists in the oratorical contest were Rick Saylor, first; Linda Kuskie, third; and Mike Thomas, second.

ESSAY contest winner on "citizenship" was Sharon Butcher.

Rewarded These

Honors to Peoria students are traditionally passed out at an assembly in May. Outstanding students are announced by various departments.

Bonnie Bokelman, who maintained a 1.03 average during her four years of high school.

This year Peoria hosted the district oratorical contest, in which Rick Saylor placed second.

Sophomore Gwyned Golden was selected for the All-State Band for the second straight year.

MARTHA BURNS was D.A.R. "Good Citizen."

Peoria's Panthers, ably coached by Ray Mitokawa, blazed through a highly successful 6-won 2-lost 1-tied season.

Because of a forfeiture, the Panthers moved up to third in the Class A North Conference Standings at the end of the 1963 season. Peoria has, for the past several years, consistently placed among the "top three" in the conference.

Beginning the season with a spectacular blanking of Class AA Cortez, Mitokawa's men raced through their first four games with only six points scored against them, outscoring their opponents 136-76 at season's end.

Cagers Advanced to State Finals

Taking their first five foes in stride, Barry Arney's varsity basketball squad compiled an enviable 13-won, 6-lost record going into the conference play-offs in February. The greenclads finished in third position among class "A" North competition.

Senior lettermen Rouwenhorst, Murillo, Miller, Castro, and Gutierrez were ably assisted by junior Ken Holmes and transfer Buzz Turner, junior, who joined the squad in January.

Copping third place in the district tournament, the Panthers were finally eliminated in the state finals by San Manuel.

Varsity Club, made up of boys who have earned a letter in athletics was active this year, though they had no regular officers. Coaches Hunter and Mitokawa served as advisers.

Sponsoring the annual "Harlem Clowns" basketball game, the lettermen donated a gift to the school and enjoyed a steak fry in May.

PING-PONGING during phys. ed. class is Terry Thomas.

Fitness Stressed in P.E. Classes, Varsity Sports

MENTAL effort, as well as physical effort, is stressed by girls' physical education teacher, Miss Lynda Salida, as she administers a test on game rules.

G.A.A. Gained New Sponsor

"COME ON, LET ME HAVE IT," shouts Jessie Villasenor as she battles a KRUX "good guy" for possession of the ball. Gwen Willert advances to help.

TENNIS—J. Washam, S. Wilson, J. Mothershed, L. Kuskie, Y. Sobarzo. Not shown: J. Rouwenhorst and J. Anderson.

Cheerleaders

Gwen Willert, senior, was elected head cheerleader for the 1963-64 season. Planning new yells and pep assemblies kept the cheerleaders busy. Among their activities was a "basketball game" with the KRUX "good guys."

Performing with the band at half-time during football season and to records during basketball season were the Pom Pons this year, under their new sponsor, Mrs. Jacquelyn Boker. They also performed at assemblies and made a trip to the state fair.

POM PONS—Jessie Villasenor, Caroll King, Betty Jo Huckaby, Charlotte Ward, Marcia Fiscus, Joanne Reems, and Alice Carmona.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS lead a pep assembly as the team leaves for a distant game.

Hi-Y was headed by Steven Windtberg for the 1963-64 year. Other officers included Ronald Wheat, vice-president; Larry Jarnagin, secretary; Billy Smith, treasurer; Roger Hastings, sergeant-at-arms; Tony Gonzalo, chaplain; and Rudy Lopez, reporter. During the year, Hi-Y had swimming parties at the Phoenix YMCA.

Brenda Graves served as president of Y-Teens. Also on the executive committee were Linda Kuskie, vice-president; Marcia Fiscus, secretary; Janice Rouwenhorst, treasurer. Martha Burns and Yvonne Gonzales, chaplains, and Cheryl Kosier, song leader, were other officers.

Helping with the Christmas boxes highlighted the year for the Y-Teens, who also sponsored a "hobo party" and a trip to the snow bowl with the Hi-Y.

HARD WORKING students "help out" with the decorating of the senior booth. The carnival, an annual affair, attracted a record crowd and made over $1000 for the student council and school organizations.

We Worked Together for Carnival, Homecoming

CLASSES of 1963 and 1964 and guests enjoy the exotic atmosphere of the prom, which transformed the Sands Hotel into an Arabian paradise.

Promenaders Embarked on 'Starlight Caravan'

BEDOUINS! Larry Jarnagin, Jerry Crews, and Bobby Dikes guard the entrance to the Crown Room. They also parked the guests' "magic car-pets." Below, banqueters consume steaks with trimmings.

PROMGOERS enjoy a breather after the banquet. Candles were set afloat on the Sands' swimming pool.

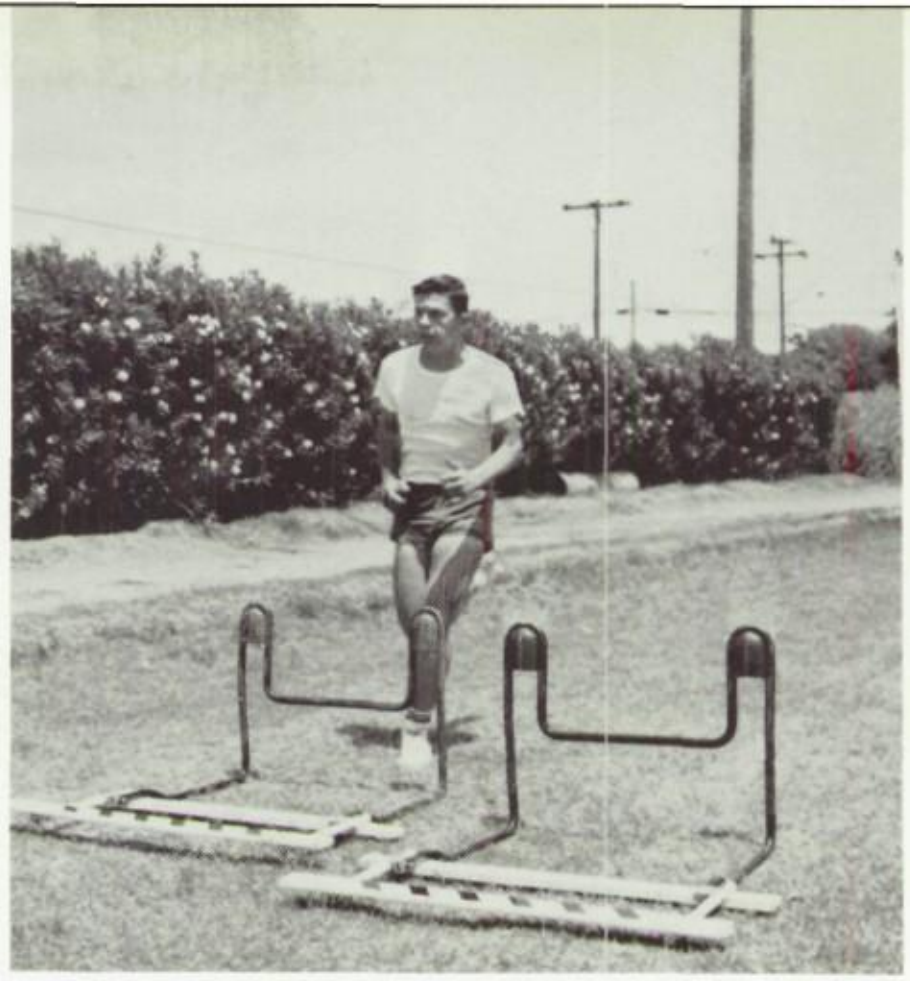
PLAYING "Beatle" style music for a KRUX "good guy" basketball game is a combo including Mike Thomas, saxophone, and Orson Williams and Kenny Holmes, guitars.

After-School Hours Brought Fun, Nonsense

THE BACK of the senior day bus to Tucson was the scene as Ralph Castro, Joe Yanes, and Armando Padilla play "old maid." Kibitzing are Marcia Fiscus, Jessie Villasenor, and Ellen Gibson.

"COACH" Mary Howe, aided by Coach Williamson, protest a decision by the official of the cheerleader—KRUX "good guy" game.

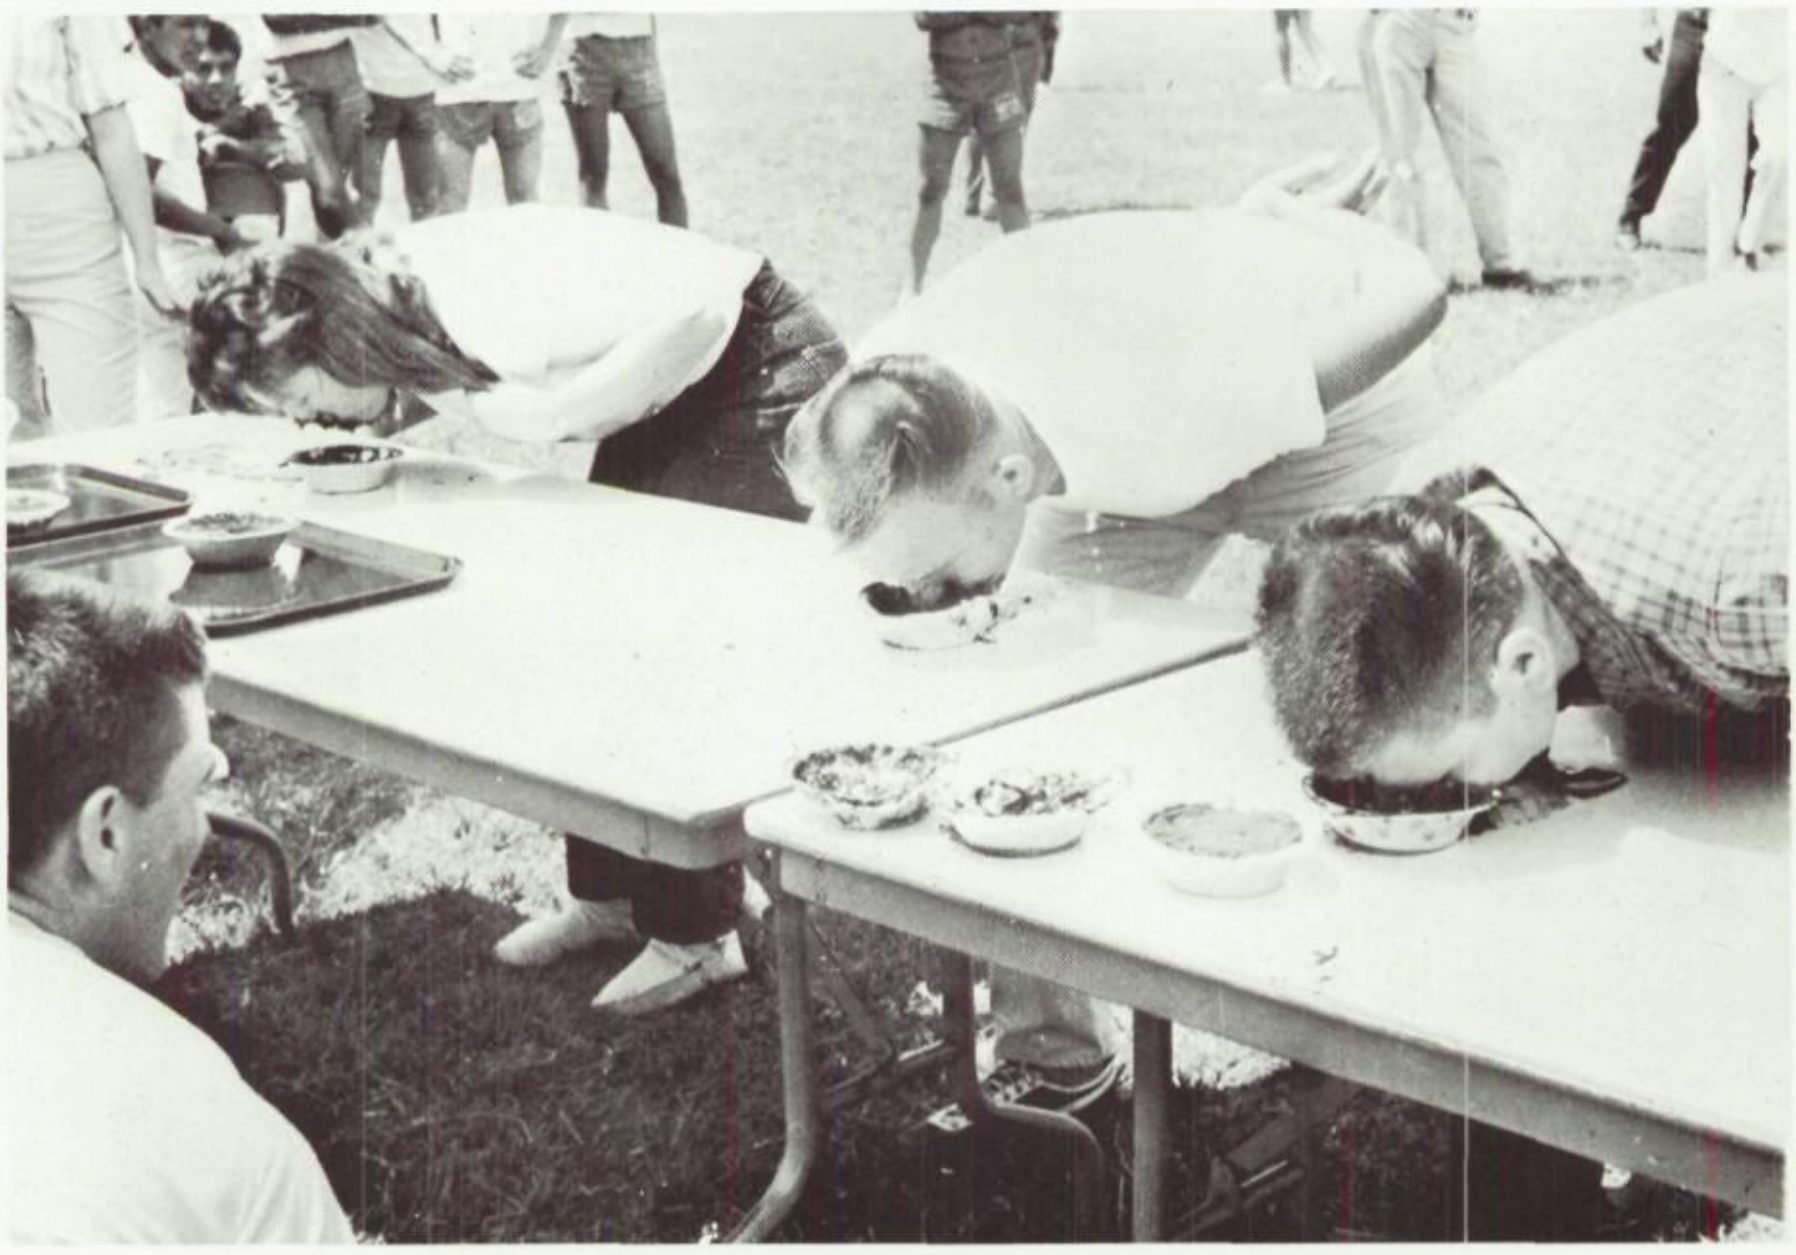
ROUND AND ROUND in the izzy-dizzy race goes Frances Hernandez, as Larry Jarnagin "judges."



"HEY, who knocked over the hurdles," asks obstacle runner Ronald Wheat.

Class of '66 Grabbed Field Day Honors

TASTY chocolate pie was daintily eaten by contestants Dorothy Hayes ('63), Howard Phillips and Mike Thomas. Ken Holmes watched for leftovers.



"BROTHER! Won't freshman week ever end?" commented Gail Mothershed disgustedly.

"OH! Is this water ever cold," added Anita Martinez.

Mud (Yuk!) Covered Initiated Freshmen

"STICKS and stones may break your bones, but mud will never hurt you!" exclaimed Mr. Kellis and Mr. Huber to freshmen following the tug-of-war.

School Staff Performed Important Work

CAFETERIA STAFF—Mrs. Cook, ticket clerk; Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Plant, Mrs. Bramlett, Mrs. Rosenau, and Mrs. Crews. Not shown: Mrs. Holley, cafeteria manager.

What a wonderful busy year this has been. It all began with publications worshop at Flagstaff last summer. I had so many things to learn. The real test came when I had to apply what I had learned to this book.

Thanks to our wonderful yearbook, sponsor, Mr. George Scott, Sally, and the other co-workers; here it is — The 1964 PANTHER.

Martha Burns

Editors Acknowledge: We 'Focused on Growth'

Whew! The year surely did go fast and the annual's finally completed.

As editor, I want to thank Mr. Scott for permitting me to share the work and fun, but mainly the experience of helping to put together the 1964 PANTHER.

I hope this year's book has left each and every one of you a treasure that should not be forgotten.

Sally Whitworth
